

Ancestry Central

Family Tree and Ancestry Research Services

Newsletter, Issue 1 2011

This Newsletter is designed to take you through to our interactive pages, to do so, please select the relevant link, logo or image

Latest News

Matrimonial Expedition kills two birds with one stone 'Dairy of a Family Tree Researcher'.

Celebrating Census Day in the UK with access to the Times archives, I decided to perform a search on my 2 x Great Grandfather; George Henry Taylor I, I did not expect to find anything. I'd always been told by my Grandmother that once Widowed, George had advertised for a 'wife of means' and I had been lead to believe that was in a newspaper in North Yorkshire. Continued

Search UK, USA and Irish Newspaper Articles from 1785

I have recently subscribed to a number of services that give me access to Newspaper Archives dating back to 1785, information at my finger tips which could prove valuable to your Family Research. More information

Leaving Home, a Historical Journey

My Journey to London by train is always steeped in my own personal history, even when I am researching for other families. Today will be no exception, and I have scheduled a sufficient local visits to keep me busy for the whole day. More

1815 Prussia Search.

"Possibly originating in Prussia (now part Germany and part Poland), the first part of my research has been to place the boundary changes in order and gain an understanding of when and where official registrations may have been made." Read Full Story.

Family Search Results in Hanging

In search of Thomas Creasey of Heckington, I encountered this interesting tale of a dalliance with infamy. I had long known of the antics of Dick Turpin, indeed also the Essex Gang. What I had not foreseen is that one day I would be more much more interested in his antics. Read Full Story

Special Packages

Family Tree Research

Local Services

Testimonials

Rates

Contact

An experienced former Government Researcher and Investigator (UK) offering specialist services to descendants of families originating in the United Kingdom. Offering a special emphasis on Lincolnshire, Yorkshire and Lancashire, I can research your ancestors from any region of England, Scotland and Wales providing all available personal details for your family tree. As well as being a member of the Society of Genealogists, I am also a member of several other UK based Family History Societies.

Daniel Billington RSA dip, Member of the Society of Genealogists.

www.ancestrycentral.co.uk

Flickr Photo Stream

View Flickr Photostream.

Picture of the Month

Ancestry Central
Family Tree and Ancestry Research Services